Legislation".

The Common Law and English Jurisprudence, 1760-1850 - Michael Lobban 1991

In this book, Michael Lobban argues that a proper understanding of English law and jurisprudence in the period is needed to clarify the nature of common-law practice and the way in which it was envisaged by its practitioners. He questions some commonly-accepted views of the nature of the common law itself and argues that attempts - notably those by Blackstone and Bentham - to expound or to criticize common law in essentially theoretical terms were mistaken. His approach is not a philosophically-based one, but he is concerned with the evolution and spread of judicial ideas which were grounded upon the work of moral and political philosophers, and makes a valuable corrective contribution to our historical understanding of a critically important period in legal history.

Blackstone's UK and EC Competition Documents - Kirsty Middleton 2000

This text meets aims to meet the increased demand for competition law materials in light of recent legislative developments in the United Kingdom and the European Community. The Competition Act 1998, for example, which came into force on 1 March 2000, replaces the outdated Restrictive Trade Practices legislation and much of the Competition Act 1980 with a new system based closely on the EU model of competition law. Students and practitioners will therefore need to consult EU competition law when interpreting and applying the Competition Act 1998.; The text contains primary and secondary competition legislation of the United Kingdom and the European Union. Relevant statutes include the Fair Trading Act 1973, sections of the Competition Act 1980 that have not been repealed and the full text of the Competition Act 1998. The text also contains all relevant Treaty provisions, Regulations (including the Block Exemption Regulation 2970/99 on vertical agreements) and Commission Notices.

Blackstone's EC Legislation, 2001-2002 - Nigel G. Foster 2001
