Internal Combustion Engines - Institution of Mechanical Engineers 2014-10-10

This book presents the papers from the Internal Combustion Engines: Performance, fuel economy and emissions held in London, UK. This popular international conference from the Institution of Mechanical Engineers provides a forum for IC engine experts looking closely at developments for personal transport applications, though many of the drivers of change apply to light and heavy duty, on and off highway, transport and other sectors. These are exciting times to be working in the IC engine field. With the move towards downsizing, advances in FIE and alternative fuels, new engine architectures and the introduction of Euro 6 in 2014, there are plenty of challenges. The aim remains to reduce both CO2 emissions and the dependence on oil-derivate fossil fuels whilst meeting the future, more stringent constraints on gaseous and particulate material emissions as set by EU, North American and Japanese regulations. How will technology developments enhance performance and shape the next generation of designs? The book introduces compression and internal combustion engines' applications, followed by chapters on the challenges faced by alternative fuels and fuel delivery. The remaining chapters explore current improvements in combustion, pollution prevention strategies and data comparisons. presents the latest requirements and challenges for personal transport applications gives an insight into the technical advances and research going on in the IC Engines field provides the

Just Needs a Recharge - Rob Siegel 2018-04-24

Air conditioning in vintage cars often falls into disrepair, as owners figure that it never really worked all that well when it was new, and assume that rejuvenation would be prohibitively expensive. In his new book, Just Needs a Recharge: The Hack Mechanic Guide to Vintage Air Conditioning, Rob Siegel details exactly what's needed to resurrect long-dead air conditioning in a vintage car, or install a/c in a car that never had it. In a level of detail not found in any other automotive a/c book, Rob reveals what you need to know about flare and o-ring fittings, upgrading to a rotary-style compressor and a parallel-flow condenser, making or specifying custom hoses, and selecting refrigerant so that the a/c blows cold enough to be usable. Although the book draws from Rob's BMW experience (with specifics for the BMW 2002 and 3.0CS), and concentrates on vintage a/c systems (those that have flare fittings and originally contained R12), most of the information applies to any air conditioning system, foreign or domestic, vintage or modern. Written in Rob's entertaining Hack Mechanic narrative voice, and including 240 photographs and illustrations, the book covers theory, the choice of refrigerant (R12, R134a, other EPA-approved, non-EPA-approved), legality, tools for a/c work, fittings and sizes, the compressor, the evaporator assembly and expansion valve or orifice tube, the condenser and fan, the receiver/drier or accumulator, electrical connections and compressor cycling, connecting and using manifold gauges, the basic steps for a/c rejuvenation, from-scratch a/c retrofit, making and installing hoses, flushing the system, pressure-testing and leak detection, evacuating and charging the system troubleshooting, and other things that heat up the cabin.

The Casualty List - J. R. Euen 2013-07-18

The novel is written in the first person, fiction based on the author's experience as a shipping fraud and casualty investigator for the insurance world. It takes the reader behind the scenes to tell the real story. You enter a world of natural and man-made catastrophes. Experience what it's like to be trapped on a burning tanker loaded with 400,000 tons of highly inflammable crude oil. What happens when a ship runs aground in thick fog. Imagine when lights failed, the ship in danger of breaking up. Experience being aboard a ferry carrying sheep across the Bass Straits when it capsizes. Swept up into the bows by an avalanche of water flooding in through the stern door with the ship going full astern. Trapped in a steel coffin in darkness surrounded by dying sheep. In danger of suffocating as the bubble of air is slowly depleted of oxygen as the sheep gasp for breath. Abandoning hope of survival, then elated as divers appear to your rescue. Then there's maritime crime. All that's needed is a rusty-hull destined for the breaker's yard. Insure a non-existent cargo for an outrageous sum, and then scuttle it at sea. The claim for millions of dollars for the loss of the cargo will be viewed with suspicion by insurers. Jim Stewart, the character in the book, meets many unique characters, in often tragi-comic situations. This is the first of three novels by J.R.Euen..

A Speck in the Cosmos - Henry Caulfeild 2015-09-13

Henry St George Caulfeild (1851-1943) wrote this autobiography towards the end of his life and called it percipiently, 'A Speck in the Cosmos'. Reading 'A Speck in the Cosmos' reveals a fascinating insight into Henry Caulfeild's life in colonial Ceylon (as Sri Lanka was known), when coffee was grown and where he worked as a plantation manager. When coffee failed there, Henry then moved to Queensland during Australia's era of imported labour from the South Sea Islands for the rapidly developing sugar plantations around Bundaberg, a topic which subsequently became controversial.

Written in the somewhat constrained language of the time, this autobiography nevertheless remains a primary historical resource of a lifestyle of that era and puts a first-hand and very personal touch to British and Australian enterprises of the time. Although the autobiography was never formally published at the time, a portion of 'A Speck in the Cosmos' was serialised in a pre-World War II Australian magazine called 'The Steering Wheel and Society & Home'. Sisters Colleen Watts and Louise Brodie, Henry's great grandchildren, have carefully compiled this book, using the previously published pages and a selection of family and historical photographs. Also included is a section of the family tree to give context to the autobiography and the family members mentioned. Caulfeild's Boer War Compendium (an extraordinary amount of material relating to the Boer War and referred to in this autobiography) is housed by the State Library of Queensland, Australia in the John Oxley Library in Brisbane.
