Afghanistan's Islam - Nile Green 2017

"This book provides the first ever overview of the history and development of Islam in Afghanistan. It covers every era from the conversion of Afghanistan through the medieval and early modern periods to the present day. Based on primary sources in Arabic, Persian, Pashto, Urdu and Uzbek, its depth and scope of coverage is unrivalled by any existing publication on Afghanistan. As well as state-sponsored religion, the chapters cover such issues as the rise of Sufism, Sharia, women's religiosity, transnational Islamism and the Taliban.

Islam has been one of the most influential social and political forces in Afghan history. Providing idioms and organizations for both anti-state and anti-foreign mobilization, Islam has proven to be a vital socio-political resource in modern Afghanistan. Even as it has been deployed as the national cement of a multi-ethnic 'Emirate' and then 'Islamic Republic,' Islam has been no less a destabilizing force in dividing Afghan society. Yet despite the universal scholarly recognition of the centrality of Islam to Afghan history, its developmental trajectories have received relatively little sustained attention outside monographs and essays devoted to particular moments or movements. To help develop a more comprehensive, comparative and developmental picture of Afghanistan's Islam from the eighth century to the present, this edited volume brings together specialists on different periods, regions and languages. Each chapter forms a case study 'snapshot' of the Islamic beliefs, practices, institutions and authorities of a particular time and place in Afghanistan"--Provided by publisher

Mapping Global Theatre Histories - Mark Pizzato 2019-05-02

This textbook provides a global, chronological mapping of significant areas of theatre, sketched from its deepest history in the evolution of our brain's 'inner theatre' to ancient, medieval, modern, and postmodern developments. It considers prehistoric cave art and built temples, African trance dances, ancient Egyptian and Middle-Eastern ritual dramas, Greek and Roman theatres, Asian dance-dramas and puppetry, medieval European performances, global indigenous rituals, early modern to postmodern Euro-American developments, worldwide postcolonial theatres, and the hyper-theatricality of today's mass and social media. Timelines and numbered paragraphs form an overall outline with distilled details of what students can learn, encouraging further explorations online and in the library. Questions suggest how students might reflect on present parallels, making their own maps of global theatre histories, regarding geo-political theatrics in the media, our performances in everyday life, and the theatres inside our brains.

Four Pillars of Destiny - Jin Peh 2017-11-30

What do Madeleine Albright, Helena Bonham Carter, Richard Dreyfuss, Marilyn Monroe, Bruce Springsteen and Justin Timberlake have in common? According to the Four Pillars system of Chinese Astrology, all the famous individuals mentioned above have Metal charts. As you will discover after reading this book, these celebrities have birth charts where Metal is the most prominent element. From the 108 examples that are covered within, you will find that Metal features as the Resource, Output, Wealth, Power or Self element. These Metal charts are then divided into six different classifications or groups, each with their own characteristics and ranking of favourable elements. This is not a book for the absolute beginner. Rather, it is for those who are already familiar with deriving a Four Pillars chart from a Ten Thousand Year Calendar and would like to progress further with more detailed analysis of birth charts. This is the second of a series of five books that looks at Four Pillars charts based on their most prominent element. It encourages readers to identify the overall pattern or flow of their birth charts and then relate it back to the Day Master. It introduces a different perspective from the usual weak-strong approach to Four Pillars charts. Rather than simply translating Chinese theoretical texts, this book illustrates the steps and thinking involved in interpreting a chart through 108 examples. The aim is to bring your analysis and understanding of Four Pillars charts to a more sophisticated level.
